THE VISION

FIRST CLASS DAYS, EPICUREAN EVENINGS & DIONYSIAN NIGHTS

LIFESTYLE AND LUXURY BY MAJOR FOOD GROUP

A night out with Major Food Group (MFG) is like no other. Menus are classic yet rarified, the ambiance glows and crackles, and the staff always knows what you want next.

Now imagine the MFG ethos touching every part of your day: Wake up looking over the Venetian Islands, or arrive home to Villa Miami by helicopter; spend the day unwinding in the building’s Mediterranean spa or skimming across the bay by boat, or both; stop by a wine tasting in the members’ lounge, and revel late into the night at the city’s best new restaurant, which just happens to be downstairs. A night out with MFG is like no other, and a life designed by MFG is like nothing else—even in Miami.

DESIGNING A LIFESTYLE

THE MAJOR FOOD GROUP ETHOS

Waterfront living imagined, designed, programmed, and fully serviced by the team that has gained acclaim worldwide since opening their first of 40+ restaurants in New York City in 2009.

The MFG philosophy of boundless opulence goes beyond food and beverage experiences; it extends to waterfront access, beautifully appointed gyms and spas, no-detail-overlooked chef's kitchens at home, and a building full of Miami's most discerning patrons.

THE TOWER

HEAD
IN THE SKY
WITH A
HAND IN THE WATER

LIMITLESS POSSIBILITIES, BOUNDLESS OPULENCE

This is an entirely new proposal for how to live in Miami. These aren't just views of the water. This is an open window with a breeze coming off the bay; dinner on the veranda with the sunset refracted in the water; a buzzing city waiting beyond.

This is a place telegraphing the old tradition of villa living in Lake Como and Provence—steeped in romance and warmth; meant to be lived in. A place encompassing the best of the water and life beyond.

ELEVATED IN EVERY SENSE: HOMES IN THE SKY, NESTLED BETWEEN LAND, AIR & SEA

A gemstone on the water's edge, Villa Miami proposes something opulent but intimate — and entirely new for Miami's skyline. ODP Architects designed something distinct from the soaring condos that already populate the cityscape: A structure that's instantly a landmark.

Waterfront homes in the sky, finished in bronze — anchored on top by a helicopter pad and below by a dock. Rising up from the water's edge and at home in the sky, this isn't just the city's most iconic building, it's an invitation to indulge in the best of Miami.

THE NEW HEART OF MIAMI

The 1980s saw the rise of Miami Beach, filled with characters from the fashion and entertainment worlds. The aughts witnessed the birth of Miami's Art Basel as a mecca for art.

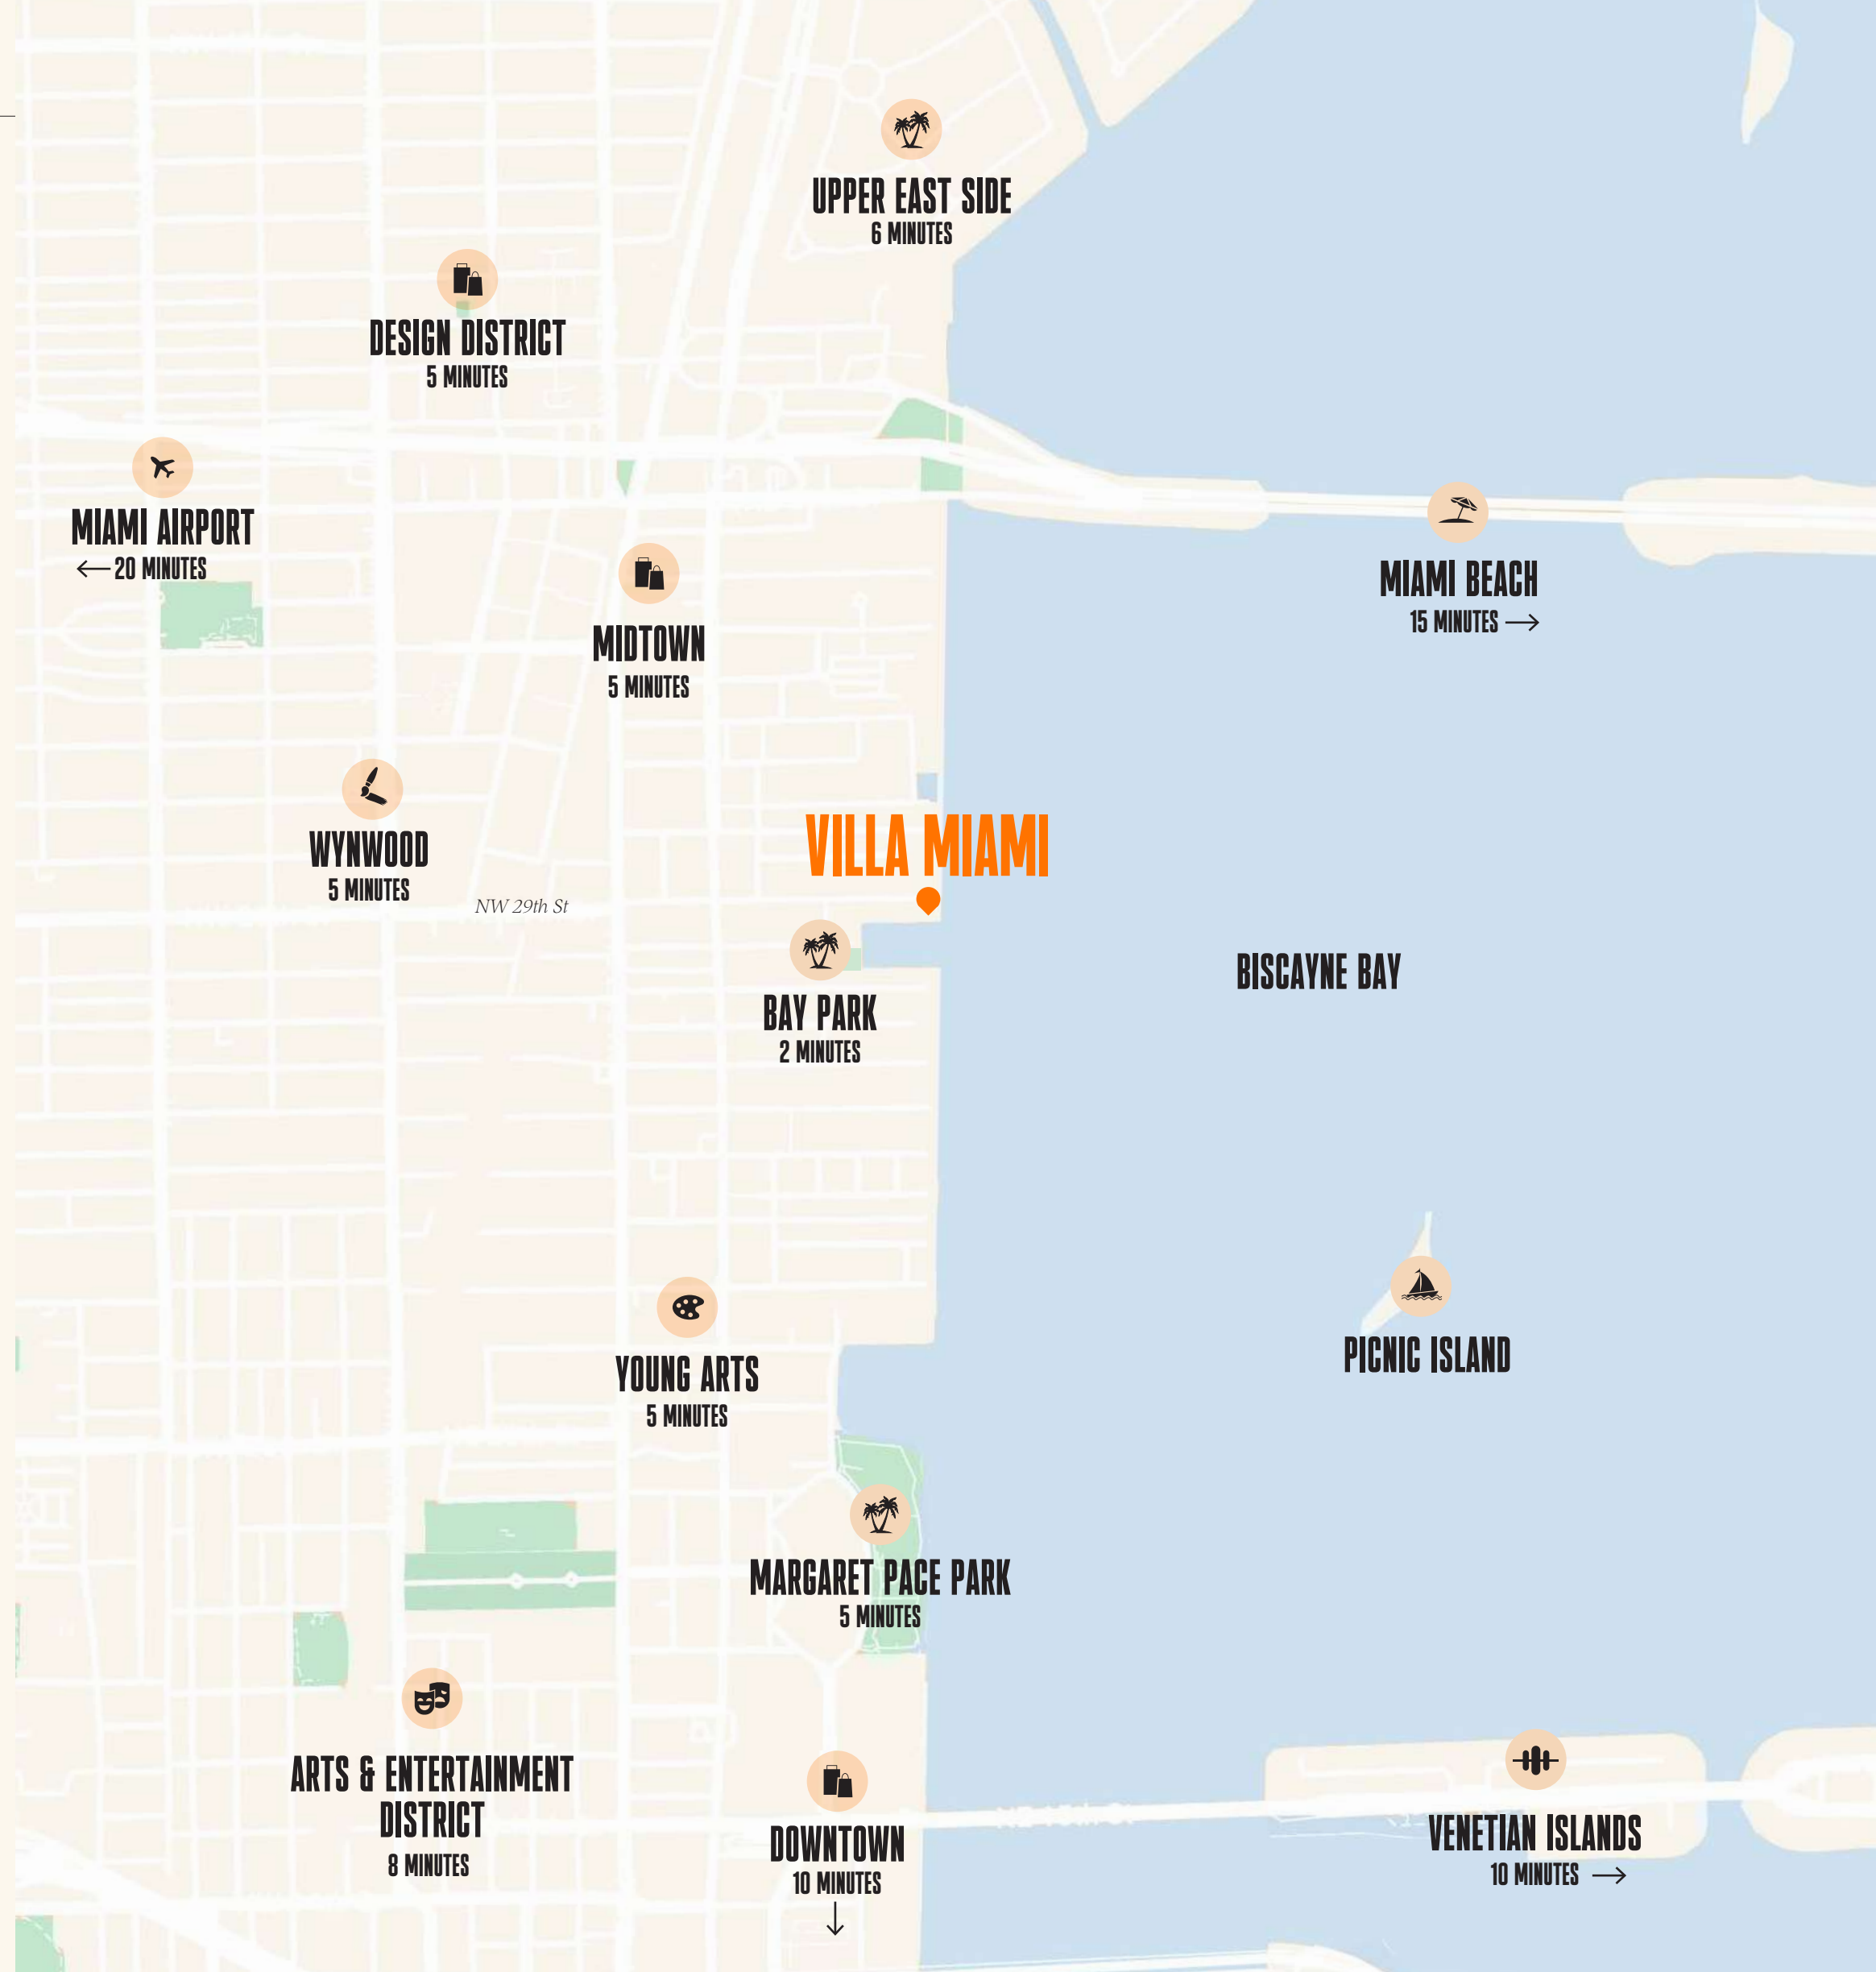

Now, the next cultural renaissance in Miami is happening in Edgewater, where a new interpretation of waterfront living is emerging, built for a certain kind of global citizen who just happens to call Miami home.

EDGEWATER

MIAMI'S MOST CONNECTED NEIGHBORHOOD

Edgewater is connected to the best of Miami, situated just five blocks from the Design District and across the Venetian Causeway from Miami Beach.

Easily accessible to all the best of Miami, Edgewater represents the future of the city and the increasingly global populace of people who call it home. The arrival of Villa Miami means the next chapter of Edgewater has begun.

MFG's Contessa in the Design District matches superb food with dreamy, rich interiors and exemplary service.

AMENITIES, SERVICES & DINING

A SPRAWLING SUITE OF AMENITIES, SERVICES, AND SPACES

EACH MORE ENTICING THAN THE LAST

Villa Miami's amenities go beyond a concierge and a gym. Major Food Group designed the building's services to operate as an ecosystem of conveniences, where needs are anticipated, coffee orders are known by heart, and a pool, thermal spa, and sauna are always just downstairs.

Like a small town unto itself, the building comes with an array of spaces for every kind of gathering and convenience, while landscape architect Enzo Enea designed the grounds according to the spirit of the place—the sun, the wind, the soil, and the water nearby.

Each full floor estate-style residence overlooks the water, while sitting high in the sky. Noble materials are used throughout, with travertine marble, wood flooring, and soft lighting setting the tone.

A LIFE DESIGNED AROUND THE HORIZON

Homes with a private, 360° view of Biscayne Bay and the rest of Miami. Sunlight at every hour. Wake to the morning light rising over the Atlantic, and take aperitivo on the back veranda while the sun sets.
